MURIVIAN

BROOKLINE HIGH SCHOOL

What is School Spirit?

That intangible quality which pervades the hallowed halls of Brookline High School, stimulating interests and enthusiasm in all activities, is known as SCHOOL SPIRIT. It is present in the jaunty walk of the marshal as he proudly displays his red and blue band of authority. It is present in the lunchroom laughter and shouting and in the quadrangle springtime concerts. Enthusiastic support for the school plays, for Student Forum meetings, and for the Senior and Junior Prom, shows the extent and diversification with which all vent their pride for school events. Listening to the Radio Club as they announce the results of the record poll on the Bob Clayton Show! Eagerly reading the Sagamore and Murivian! The desire to hear reports of the progress of student government organizations! The independence of Brookline's unique Alpha Pi from the National Honor Society! The record-making contributions to the Red Cross Drives! All these are active manifestations of interest in the activities of Brookline High School. All these are active manifestations of SCHOOL SPIRIT.

SCHOOL SPIRIT is learning in the classroom. It is the pride of the graduating seniors as they leave four memorable years behind them. It is the Brookline student praising his school to his Newton friend and rival as they argue in May—that time-worn question—"Who's going to win the Thanksgiving Day Game?" It is the shouting at the rallies and the singing of our Alma Mater.

And as SCHOOL SPIRIT is such an integral part of all our activities at Brookline High School, so it is also a fitting theme for this, our 1958 MURIVIAN.

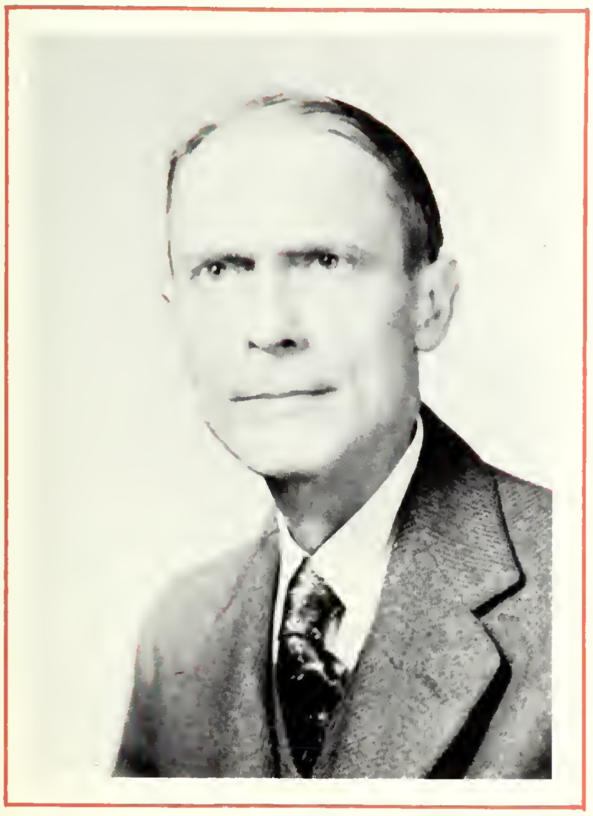
Miss Katherine O'Brien

Miss Katherine O'Brien, we of the 1958 Murivian staff announce with great pleasure the dedication of our yearbook to you. This dedication is not simply because you are a graduate of Smith College, nor because you taught in Angers, France, and became so endeared to the people that they received you as "Une Angevine," a true woman of Anjou. It is not because you were an instructor at Middlebury Summer School in methods of teaching French, nor because you received the "Palmes Academiques" from the French government for your work in relations between the United States and France. It is not merely because you are the author of two widely-used French textbooks, nor because you are the head of our Modern Foreign Language Department.

We are dedicating the 1958 Murivian to you, Miss O'Brien, because you are so warm, personal, and interested in each of your students as individuals. When we are trying our best, you give us that added incentive to reach the top. This yearbook is dedicated to you because you make after-school oral drill and College Board Review voluntarily compulsory, and because you open all the windows wide on the coldest day of the year. After you hurry through the lesson as fast as possible and have ten minutes left over, we fondly listen to you exclaim "Mon Dieu" while reading aloud our test marks. We are dedicating our 1958 Murivian to you, Miss O'Brien, because you are a devoted teacher, an inspiration to all your students.



DEDICATION

Mr. Francis W. Newsom

It is fitting that we dedicate the 1958 MURIVIAN to you, Mr. Newsom, because you are so much a part of what we call the Spirit of BHS. During the past thirty years, your loyalty, friendliness, and pride in fine work and high achievement have become self-evident. Fortunate we are to have you among us.

You are best known as Mr. Newsom, the Creative Writing teacher. For almost ten years, BHS students have taken your two-year course and have worked to meet your high standards. Many of them have won honors in the annual Atlantic Monthly Creative Writing contests, as proof of the excellence of your course. Your book, Writer's Technique, has been a "practical guide to creative writing" for your students.

We know you as an author, teacher, and friend, and we take much pride in your work. To you we are grateful and, as an expression of our high esteem, we respectfully dedicate to you our 1958 MURIVIAN.

LINCOLN HOUSE

To the members of Lincoln House of 1958 go my sincere wishes for a happy and purposeful future. With your graduation come innumerable opportunities for service to others who are in great need of your understanding help. Build your life upon the solid foundations laid here so that it transcends the making of a livelihood and engrosses you in bringing about a more perfect world. Make your life meaningful to others and your happiness is bound to follow.

Warren L. Bartlett

Housemaster

Life today, with its ever-widening spheres of activity and its new horizons, offers a greater challenge to a graduating class than ever before. I know you will strive to continue to meet this challenge. It has been a pleasure to be a member of Lincoln House with you during the past four years, and I am deeply grateful for your friendliness and fine spirit of cooperation. My best wishes follow each of you.

Plans For??

We Express Our Thanks To The School Committee

Dr. Caverly, Superintendent of School

All students of Brookline High School proudly received the news that their school had been announced one of the top thirty-eight secondary schools in the country, in TIME Magazine. But this is not a new announcement of the excellent reputation of our high school, but only another announcement according to another survey. We have the Brookline School Committee to thank for the high scholastic standards which have been set in our school system and for never ceasing to pioneer in educational methods as in making our high school one of the first to participate in the Advanced Placement Program.

We, Lincoln House, the class of 1958, express our gratitude to the Brookline School Committee and to the Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Ernest R. Caverly, for making our high school one which we will always be proud to claim our Alma Mater. It is due to their constant efforts and foresight that Brookline High School is one of the finest secondary schools in the land.

To The Faculty

They say that ignorance is bliss
But we're exceptions to the rule.
That's why the staff is writing this
To all the teachers in the school.

We've crammed till midnight for a test,
We've squirmed, and watched the minutes pass.
And yet, we will remember best
Our work and fun outside of class.

With bells, relationships don't end.
At clubs, at rallies, you were there,
The faculty has been our friend.
"There's none so fair, and none so rare."

We know school spirit could not be,
Without our high school faculty.

FACULTY

Bertram H. Holland

Headmaster

Mr. Holland adresses seniors at Class Day.

Congratulations

We would like to congratulate you, Mr. Holland, on the success of your first complete year at Brookline High School. As headmaster, you have looked to the future with new ideas and with new plans toward better education. Under your leadership Brookline has begun a six-period-day system which has enabled ambitious scholars to take five majors and has enabled other students to follow their avocational interests more actively. The Guidance Service has been reorganized in order to be able to devote more time and consideration to the individual. There has also been a change in the marking system of the English Department from giving separate marks in Composition and Literature to a more meaningful single mark.

We thank you for giving us the opportunity for continual enrichment in all our pursuits and for setting high the standards of all our endeavors. With the maturity of seniors and the remembrances of a full and happy year now setting upon us, we shall always recall the part you have played in making our last year at Brookline High School a solid foundation on which to base our further aspirations in life.

Sincerely,
Lincoln House

School Council

The School Council, governing body of B.H.S., works in collaboration with the Marshal Force, The Court of Justice and the four House Councils to regulate the affairs of the school and to see that everything runs smoothly. Its members include elected representatives from all four houses who in turn elect the officers of the council itself. Some of the Council's functions are to approve constitutions of student organizations, to settle disagreements, and to regulate house and school elections. Headed by President, Peter Gens, the Council is indeed "the tie that binds" faculty and student activities together.

Officers

Chief Justice: Matthew Zion
Clerk: Beverly Mark
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Howard

The students of Brookline High have their own legislative body in the Student Council, they also have their own law-enforcing body in the Court of Justice. Violators of school rules, if they plead innocent, are given the right to be defended by student attorneys. All persons are judged and punished by those whom they have chosen as representatives. Thus the Court of Justice is a binding force throughout the High School, constantly influencing the student body to have more respect for their school, for the necessary rules of their school, and for themselves.

Captain of Corridors: William Muldowny
Secretary: Marilyn Misner
Faculty Advisor: Mr. Jordan

Who are the students with the blue and red armbands? They're members of the Marshal Force, the executive branch of Brookline High's student government. The Marshal Force, advised by Mr. Jordan, works in co-ordination with the School Council and Court of Justice to uphold the high standards of BHS, and also regulates corridor and lunchroom traffic. Members of the Marshal Force are students of the sophomore, junior, and senior houses, who are elected in May, either in the homeroom or at large. The Marshal Force, which works efficiently to maintain "law and order," is strong evidence of the spirit of co-operation at BHS.

Club

All students who are interested in the field of aviation will find membership in the BHS Aero Club an interesting and valuable experience. At their bi-monthly meetings, Aero Club members, under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Warren, build, fly, and discuss their model airplanes. They also participate in other activities concerning aviation; such as trips, outdoor contests, and films. To any student interested in aviation as a career or as a hobby, the Aero Club has a great deal to offer.

Pi

One of the greatest honors gained by a student at Brookline High is admission to Alpha Pi. This is not a singular accomplishment, but rather a reward for scholastic and extra-curricular achievements. When a student enters high school, he sets Alpha Pi as a goal, thus participating in a variety of activities and cultivating new interests. All those who finally attain the distinction of admittance are linked together by their contributions to the school and a certain school spirit which makes them strive to bring honor to Brookline High in a great number of varied activities.

"Me and My Shadow"

Radio Club

The Amateur Radio Club of BHS encourages all prospective "hams" by giving lessons in Morse Code and radio theory. A knowledge of these is a necessary requirement in order to obtain a license to operate and, because of this encouragement, the club has a constantly growing membership. Brookline High has obtained a station license and may now give and take messages to and from all parts of the country. Participation in Civil Defense activities supplements the work of the club.

Club

Whether or not you find a hidden meaning in a big blob of red and green paint, the BHS Art Club has a great deal to offer to those interested in art. This organization is made up of members from all four houses, many of whom are students in the Art Department. Under the direction of faculty advisor Mrs. Woodbery, art club members meet twice a month to hold informal discussions and to work with the various media of art. Other activities include, exhibits, movies, and trips to museums and art schools.

Don't give up, son! There's hope for you, too.

ON ON ON

The Brookline High School Audio-Visual Staff, under the direction of Mr. Lowe, performs a vital and beneficial task for students and teachers alike. Members of the staff take charge of setting up films and have full control of running the projectors. Through this department students are enabled to derive extra material in various subjects by enjoying films which the school is fortunate to obtain, and teachers are aided in further explaining their work.

Band

"Strike up the band!"

Whether it be on the football field marching line-up, at a concert featuring truly fine music, or at one of the many school functions in which it participates, the BHS Band always conveys the school spirit of Brookline High. From September to June, the band members, under the leadership of faculty advisor, Mr. Blakely, and student leader, Charlie Lourie, strive to boost school spirit and to present musical programs which will be appreciated by all. Indeed, the band is the pride and joy of Brookline High.

Staff

The students of Brookline High School are encouraged to save their money throughout the year, but every other Tuesday a special reminder is made. At this time, out come the bank books and into the bank goes the hard-earned money—to be saved here for a college education or other important projects. But wait! Aren't we forgetting something? This procedure would be impossible without the accuracy and efficiency of the Bank Staff.

Margie, did they take the loot?

Club

The meetings of the Biology Club are a must for every would-be botanist and zoologist in the high school. At these highly interesting meetings one might find himself doing anything from feeding a snake or dissecting a frog, to listening attentively to one of Mr. Keene's fascinating tales of his adventures in the Everglades.

Supplemented by such outdoor work, as bird walks and the conservation program at Larz Anderson Park, the Biology Club finds it an easy task to keep its members interested and active.

Club

"Watch the birdie!"

The only requirement for membership in the BHS Camera Club is an active interest in photography. "Shutterbug" and expert alike are welcome to join this organization, which meets on alternate weeks under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Parfitt. At these meetings, Camera Club members learn how to use photographic material effectively and to print and enlarge photographs which they have taken. Discussions, movies, and slides are also included in the club's program. In addition to this, the Camera Club sponsors an annual photo contest which is open to all students.

Treasury

"Who's got the money, honey?" Why, the B.H.S. Central Treasury, of course! The Central Treasury, which manages the financial transactions of Brookline High's organizations, consists of a staff of appointed students from the Business Department. This staff also instructs club treasurers in the able management of the finances of their respective groups. Records of the Central Treasury's funds are available for use by member organizations, the School Committee, the Superintendant of Schools, and the Headmaster. The faculty advisors of the Central Treasury include: Mr. Ehnes, treasurer; Miss Hamblin, Mr. Dunbar, and Miss Poland, assistant treasurers; and Mr. Wall, auditor and supervisor of student bookkeepers and typists.

What's cookling here?

Club

Who said, "It's a woman's world?" The masculine members of the Chef's Club would take time out to strongly repute this statement. For indeed, these enterprising young men have donned white caps and aprons, hailed Brookline High's kitchens as their own dominion and set out with ambition and resolution to learn the intricate skill required to boil an egg. Be careful boys! Don't burn too many fingers in the process.

Club

Sorcerers, apprentices, mad scientists, alchemists! Membership in the B.H.S. Chemistry Club won't teach you to make gold, but will acquaint you with the aspect of modern chemistry. This club, which offers membership to all students, stimulates the interest of its members in chemistry chiefly by demonstrating and discussing experiments. Meetings are held bi-monthly under the direction of faculty advisor, Miss Campbell. In this age of science the Chemistry Club is particularly impostant at B.H.S. because it encourages scientifically-minded students to pursue their interest in Chemistry.

Club

For those eager to discover just how logical their minds really are, the Chess Club provides an excellent opportunity. Although it looks like the game of a child, it requires the skill of a man to carefully manipulate his fingers and outwit his opponents. A game of chess is as stimulating and fascinating as the minds of those who play the game.

"Sing you Sinners, Sing!"

Choir

Any student who crosses the bridge near the music department during fifth and sixth periods will hear the Brookline High Concert Choir at work. Beside meeting one period during each school day, the Choir meets once a week after school to rehearse under the direction of Mr. Joseph. The requirements for membership in this group include a year of chorus and a try-out, in which vocal and music-reading ability are tested.

The purpose of the Concert Choir is to perform at various school and outside functions. Whether it be at graduation or the annual Quadrangle Concert, any performance which the Concert Choir presents is appreciated by all.

Society

In the Debating Society, B.H.S. students are taught to speak intelligently and effectively concerning matters of current interest. The student learns to find and organize material, to write his speech using this material to the best advantage, and to give a convincing presentation. One valuable experience is participating in the rebuttal, which requires a person to break down his opponents' arguments and defend his own with only three minutes for preparation. The annual extemporaneous contest gives similar experience but here one might find a subject such as: "Resolved: Brookline High is the best school in Massachusetts." Naturally, the affirmative wins!

Society

All aspiring actors and actresses are given the chance to display their talents in the various performances of the Dramatic Society, whether it be a variety show, a one-act play, or the annual full-scale production. Casting, daily rehearsals, and costume fitting are all part of the fun. Then the strained voices and clumsy movements at the traditionally bad dress rehearsal, make-up; lights; curtains; and you're on! The big moment arrives and the budding young actors and actresses take their places for their always successful play.

Ann you must be acting. You couldn't be for real.

FHA

In this age of can openers and precooked foods for you to heat and eat, the real act of homemaking has become obscure. However, as a member of the Future Homemakers of America, any girl can be trained to set up housekeeping efficiently. Some activities of this group include parties, movies, cake sales, and picnics, as well as discussions and cooking many types of food. Meetings are bimonthly, and all members are required to have had a year of homemaking either in grammar school or in BHS. Indeed, the FHA has a great deal to offer to every girl in BHS.

Club

"Parles-vous francais?"

Any member of "Le Cercle Francais" has the opportunity to broaden his knowledge of French and the French langauge. Since in speaking French "you learn to do by doing," the meetings are conducted in French. These meetings include French plays, songs, games, formal and informal discussions, as well as refreshments. The requirements for membership in the French Club can be met by first-year students with an "A" average at mid-year, second and third year students with a "B" average, and all fourth year students. "Sprechen Sie Deutch?"

Those students who do can learn a great deal about German and Germany through membership in the German Club. The club, which consists of a small group of active and interested students advised by Mr. Friedland, holds informal meetings on alternate months. Aiming to familiarize its members with the customs of the German people and to develop proficiency in speaking German, the club successfully carries out its purpose by means of movies, debates, guest speakers, and an annual excursion. Second and third year German students with a "B" or better average are eligible to become members.

League

EXHIBIT 'A'
DOLL CONTEST

From the very first day of school, the Girls' League helps newcomers adjust to the high school's varied program through junior and senior advisors, acquaintance parties, and various teas. The League's activities, however, are not completely social, for the girls give much time and energy to the making of scrapbooks and dolls for needy children and volunteer work in hospitals and settlement houses. Its full-scale program is climaxed each year with the supper party where the installation of new officers, along with an exciting show presented by the seniors, takes place.

There's one in every group, Ruthie.

Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross, evidence of the charitable spirit of Brookline High, is comprised of a group of students who strive to help the needy both at home and overseas. Its activities in BHS include the collection of funds to be distributed among charitable organizations for young people, and the annual gift box drive in November, which provides needy children abroad with useful articles and small toys. Junior Red Cross members also serve as volunteers in Brookline and at the Boston chapter headquarters. Members of the Junior Red Cross consist of homeroom representatives and those students who have aided in its drives.

Club

Not a speaking fluency of Latin, but a sincere interest and liking for the language is a prerequisite for membership in the Latin Club. Although some think Latin to be a dead language, the members of this club will jump to the defense of their stimulating lingo. And indeed, who can blame them? The wide range of professions for which Latin forms a basis is evidence of its living quality. And the beauty of Latin poetry by Ovid and Virgil will live on forever.

MOBY DICK
CHURCHILL

Looking for something to read? Whether it be a Shakespearean play or today's best-seller, ask the student wearing a red and blue armband, and you will surely find it. He is not a marshal, but one of the many students who, as library aides, work to keep our library operating efficiently. Besides helping their fellow students to find reading and reference material, the library aides help the librarians keep the shelves well-stocked, the books correctly stamped, and deliver newspapers to faculty members daily. Without the work of these students, our library could not be as serviceable as it is now.

Barbara, you're supposed to read them, not just look at them.

Membership in the Society offers the student an opportunity to develop his literary interests and is invaluable preparation for college.

Marshals

Any student who has forgotten his locker combination or has left his key at home will agree that the locker marshals are essential to B.H.S. The locker marshals, who wear blue and gold armbands, are student volunteers working under the direction of Faculty Advisor Mr. Wells and chief marshal Alan Friedman. They are on duty before and after school in the Key Office, which is on the first floor. The activities of the locker marshals include checking lockers, enforcing locker room regulations, and turning in lost articles. With the help of the Locker Marshals, may the students of B.H.S. "forever hold their keys."

Any math student interested in exploring the field of mathematics beyond ordinary class requirements is eligible to become a member of the B.H.S. Math Society. At monthly meetings, directed by faculty advisor Miss Zelinka, mathematically-minded members broaden their knowledge of math through lectures, discussions, films, and trips. Also, the problems in the "Math Student Journal" present a challenge which is enthusiastically met. The Math Society is well represented at the annual Science Fair by students who work on individual projects. Thus, the Math Society presents opportunities for fun and knowledge to students of all math classes.

Orchestra

During the school day and on Tuesday afternoons, room 337 marks the spot for good listening. Here you will find the BHS Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Joslin, rehearsing for one of the many school functions in which it participates. The Orchestra, besides performing independently, often works in collaboration with other organizations in the Music Department to produce enjoyable concerts, assemblies, and the graduation ceremony. Members of the Orchestra belong to any one of the four houses, and have developed skill in playing a particular instrument. Indeed, the Orchestra is essential to Brookline High because it provides beautiful music which is extensively appreciated.

Club

One of the most vital organizations to the spirit of B.H.S. is the Pep Club, for it is this club's enthusiasm which cheers on all students to utmost loyalty and pride in our school. It is responsible for the red and blue book covers so familiar to all and the red carnations worn on the day before the Thanksgiving football game to show the pride of each student in his school and in a thundering victory over Newton. The Pep Club is also accredited for the organization of our rallies, which exhibit tangible evidence of this bond which ties all of us together.

Club

You don't have to understand Einstein's Theory of Relativity to become a member of the Physics Club! This club, which is open to all students interested in science, offers its members an opportunity to explore the field of physics. Meetings, which are held on alternate Wednesdays and supervised by faculty advisor Mr. Fuller, include discussion and experimentation on such subjects as gravity and electricity. Many of these experiments are developed into individual projects to be demonstrated at the annual Science Fair. The importance of a general understanding of Physics in this age of scientific progress renders the Physics Club prominent at BHS.

Broadcasting Club

The Radio Broadcasting Club is a must for all those interested in any aspect of radio work as their career, and for those who feel that they would enjoy learning about the different phases of radio programs. Whether it be polling the student body on their favorite songs and recording artists and reporting these results on Bob Clayton's Boston Ballroom, or simply participating in the presentation of their own radio scripts, all members find the club's many and varied activities enjoyable.

Pretty good fix-up, eh?

For news and sports plus many a treat,
The Sag's the paper that can't be beat.

Something for everyone from the latest on the all-school dance plus an inside view of the careers of the senior class leaders to an explosive interview with a famous personality. An immense amount of talent, effort, and cooperation is needed for the publication of B.H.S.' famous newspaper, the Sagamore.

Guess we got our signals crossed.

Customs Club

Do you spend sleepless nights wondering whether to curl your eyelashes up or down? Do you become dismally distressed with the problems of which stocking to put on which foot in the midst of an especially difficult algrebra test? If such problems as these plague you, quickly "slurp" that soup down and run and join the Social Customs Club at Brookline High, for you, too, may be well-groomed and well-mannered at all times.

Is this a social custom or socializing?

Those who have gaily participated in gym to the imaginative cries of Mr. Bemis know full well the enjoyment which "diving for the oyster" brings. The members of the Square Dance Club are even better acquainted with these shouts and calls and spend many afternoons in the fifty by fifty room energetically dancing a widely varied group of square dances.

France! Greece! Turkey! All enthusiastic philatelists are gathered round to examine the brightly and dully colored stamps of the various nations. The older and more faded of these stamps have especially fascinating stories to tell of their background, history, and struggle for survival. Exciting trades begin among the members of the stamp club who wish to obtain some of the rare and unusual stamps of other students, but we shall leave them here amidst the noise of their transition.

Forum

Any student interested in the economic and political problems of the world will find membership in the Student Forum a stimulating experience. The Forum, under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Dobras, aims to give its members a better understanding of world affairs. This purpose is accomplished by inviting guest speakers to meetings to lecture in topics of current interest. A group discussion in which members take part usually follows the lecture. Because a knowledge and an understanding of current events is necessary to all students, especially those in the social studies department, the Student Forum is one of the most popular clubs in B.H.S.

Student Manual

Looking for something? Whether it be a special bell schedule or club information, the place to find it is in the Student Manual. This booklet, nicknamed the "Freshman's Bible," contains information about BHS which is valuable to freshmen and students of all other houses alike. Floor plans, sports, student government, and Alpha Pi information, among other topics, are included in the Manual.

Last year, a circulation and editorial staff of Lincoln House students, directed by Sheila Elliott, Paul Riseman and faculty advisor Miss Johnson, produced an informative and well-written manual for 1957-1958.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1957 Red and Blue Football forces posted an impressive 7 win 1 loss record, finished second in the Class A eastern Massachusetts' ratings, and beat Newton 34-6 in the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle.

The fast moving backfield of Co-Captain Paul Varnum, Tom Hennessey who posted a new point-scored record, Don Hootstein and Don Steele were devastating behind a strong line led by Co-Captain Dave Thompson at tackle, Lee Munsen and Joe Crowley at the guards, John Emmanuel at center, Peter Titus, Richard Nelson and Bill Muldowney at the ends and Dave Nyhan at tackle.

At the season's end Tom Hennessey was a unanimous choice of the Boston Sports Writers for the all-scholastic team. Don Hootstein, Dave Thompson, Paul Varnum and Don Steele were mentioned by several reporters as candidates for a mythical "All Star" team.

The Red and Blue basketball forces under Coach Schluntz were faced with a re-building year this season. Seven of last year's Suburban League Champions were graduated. One of the greatest set backs was the loss of Tom Hennessey early in the season with a shoulder injury. Despite all of these difficulties, progress was made toward a good team for next year. Several juniors including Bob Gordon, Steve Forman, Sam Segel, and sophs Bob Sullivan and Fred Newman were outstanding. Important wins were notched over Malden, Rindge and Watertown. The most thrilling was a last second loss to Newton by a 45-43 score.

From the outset of the hockey season it was quite apparent that this was to be a building year. Many seasoned skaters were lost by graduation and another stand-out wing by transfer. A look at the record indicates a mediocre season, which is unusual for a Mr. McCann coached sextet. On closer examination, there are several interesting facts. First, the Red and Blue were not out-classed in any game and in several they were nipped in the final minute of the game. Second, several unexperienced underclassmen developed faster than expected. Under the leadership of Coach McCann and Captain Muldowney, the Brookline hockey team provided many exciting moments for their fans. Now, ON TO NEXT YEAR!!

Cross Country

Led by James Hamburger, Paul Sibley, and Ronald Davis, the Cross Country team ended its season undefeated in the Dual Meet Competition. This is the fifteenth consecutive time that our team won these meets over a period of three years. Favored to win the Metropolitan Cross Country Championship, the team finished second to Rindge and closed its season by finishing fourth in the State Meet. Other prominent squad members were Fred Halperstadt, Edward Fahey, Uldis Purins, William Segal, and Peter Carmen.

What could have been a highly successful season for Coaches Avery and Borg turned into a moderately good season due to injuries to Co-Captain Don Hootstein and Tommy Hennessey. Both were counted on heavily, as they were potential state champions in their respective events. Outstanding performances during the indoor season were turned in by Co-Captain Dave Thompson, who set a state meet record in the high hurdles with a 5.9 time, and Alan Ashman, who collected valuable points in the shot put event. Important also was the work of Ron Davis and Bill Segal in the mile, Frank Goldschmidt in the 600, Houston Gray in the broad jump, Peter Carmen in the high jump, and Fred Silton in the hurdles. The powerful 52-25 victory over the Watertown track power was an indication of the potential of this year's squad.

Varsity Players: Row 1: Yas, Stocklan. Row 2: Mr. Fitzgerald, Capt. Varnum, Hess, Muldowney.

The Wealthy Town nine this year is composed of a strong group of veteran lettermen plus a talented number of Junior Varsity graduates. The former group includes Capt. Paul Varnum, pitcher, Sol Yas, 3rd base, Paul Hess, 2nd base, Arthur Fox, short stop, Marty Stocklan, and Ken Roth, rightfield. The Junior Varsity, which compiled an excellent record last year, will send up Jerry Varnum short stop, Syd Natanson, catcher, Dick Nelson, catcher, John Plotkin, pitcher, and Billy McKeown, infield.

It is hoped that the backbone of veteran players plus the Junior Varsity graduates will enable Coach Tom Fitzgerald to successfully compete in the Suburban League with our arch rivals Newton, Waltham, Watertown, and Brockton, a new comer to the League.

The BHS Girls' Field Hockey team is packed with spirit and enthusiasm. It is among the most popular girls' sports. The spirit of wholesome competition and the invaluable experience of good sportsmanship is displayed by each member of the team. Through the remarkable efforts of the coach, Mrs. Brusko, the team has attained victories and "fair play techniques." The team is co-captained by Eleanor Fichter and Judy Nordstrum, and managed by Sheila Glennon. The girls on the team practice diligently two days a week at Eliot playground. The red uniforms symbolize the "get up and go" of the girls.

Terry and her Pirates

Our yearbook is nearing its end with what we believe to be the two groups who are almost directly responsible for the tremendous amount of school spirit that Brookline High exhibits at all games and rallies, the Drum Majorettes and the Cheerleaders.

Terry Turner, who has shown her adeptness in the art of baton twirling at all the rallies and the games of the past year, ably heads the Majorettes. The Majorettes, thanks to their skill and willingness to work together, won second place this year in their annual competition with Majorettes of other high schools. We are all proud as the Majorettes "March Down The Field Again."

Cheerleaders

The spirit of Brookline High School is most vividly seen in the group of girls who lead the student body at games and rallies and who give our athletes the support so necessary for victory, The Cheerleaders. This year the girls as usual have done a superb job of keeping up the spirit of our school, even when we may lose a game (which isn't very often).

Carol Peltier proved to be a true leader and did an excellent job of directing the cheerleaders throughout the year.
